Express Yourself

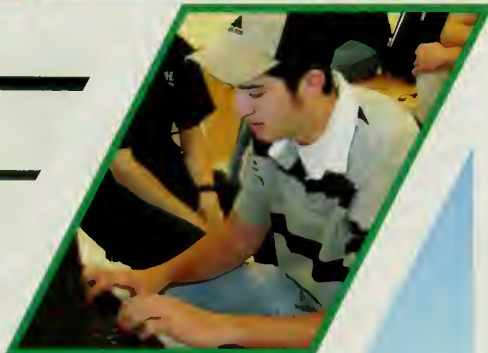

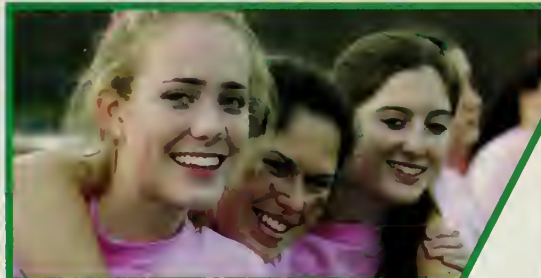

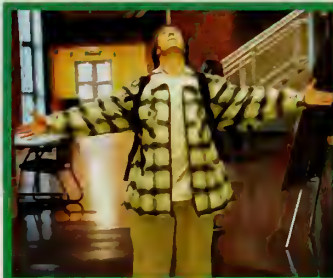

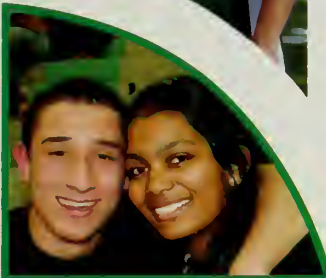

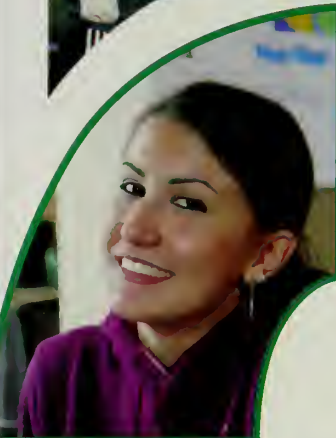

Green Years 2007

Express Yourself The 2007 Green Years celebrates the collective experience of the Westwood High School student community by featuring individual expressions of its members. What do you think? How do you feel? What's on your mind? The Yearbook Staff has asked many questions of the students of WHS this year. In this book you will see handwritten answers to the questions - individual expressions. We hope you'll hear the voices of your peers and perhaps recognize your own within these pages.

The Seven Angle The Yearbook Staff has taken visual and conceptual inspiration from the "7" in 2007. In keeping with our goal to present individuals' thoughts and feelings, we have been guided by the question, "What's your angle?" and played at presenting your perspectives using the angle of the number "7". Enjoy!

The Yearbook Dedication

To: Mr. Mao!

Presented at Class Day by Maura McGinnis and Chris Ahern, on behalf of the Class of 2007:

Each year the members of the graduating class identify one individual whose significant positive impact on the Class and school community is deserving of recognition. We choose to dedicate the Yearbook to someone who has shown great dedication to us. This year the collective voice of the Senior Class have declared one powerful syllable: MAO.

Mr. Mao, like us, considers Westwood home. His Class Day was in this very gymnasium in 1987 – the year he graduated from WHS. After earning his bachelor's degree in engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Mr. Mao worked in biomedical engineering, developing various devices, including technology to assist the flow of blood to the human heart. Six years later he decided that his heart wasn't in engineering. And, Lucky for us, he felt the pull to teach. Equipped with the experience of real world math and science application he warmed up his classroom skills at Arch Bishop Williams in Braintree. And then, he came HOME – to Westwood.

Mr. Mao has been a respected and well-loved teacher at WHS for 8 years. If the subject is Mao, here's what will be on the test: great teaching, high expectations, endless support, incredible school spirit, the best extra help, and, a whole lot of fun!

Taking a class with Mao is memorable. His teaching style is unlike any other. Mao successfully integrates structure and fun in everything he does. His methods leave little room for failure. You have to work for Mao, but he makes it worth it. You don't want to "forget" to do your homework for Mao because you'll have to write out your excuse on the dreaded yellow note card that might get mailed home to your parents. And you should take your bathroom break before or after Mao's class. To ask to leave during class means carrying a not so subtle hall pass. (Has anyone here had to take the larger than life ruler? Or the ceramic farm animals, which you are required to "trot" down the hallway). In case you forgot the handbook rule and left your cell phone on during class- watch out! Instead of taking a phone away, Mao will answer it and have a conversation with whoever is on the other line. Or, if you're not so lucky, he'll simply change the language on the phone to Portuguese. Switching it back is now a skill that many of us have acquired.

Mao loves to playfully build the pressure for test and quiz days. He chooses his many themed neckties to sum up the mood for the day. For instance, he might wear his camping-theme tie because his student should be feeling "tents" (tense?) – get it? He's even been known to play "Eye of the Tiger" as we enter the classroom, yelling "YOU READY. GET PUMPED!" If you work hard with Mao, it pays off. You might receive an end-of-term trophy for "biggest comeback" or "100% homework. You'll definitely learn a lot.

Here are a few things that members of the Class of 2007 expressed about Mr. Mao:

- "Mr. Mao is by far the best teacher I have ever had! He made me understand and like math."
- "His classes are interesting."
- "Mr. Mao is a great teacher. He challenges students of every level and cares about each student as a person."
- "He does different things during the class to make it fun and to help you understand. He also gets to know each student and can relate to all of us because he went to Westwood High."
- "He is a great teacher and offers extra help whenever needed."
- "Mr. Mao goes beyond just teaching in the classroom. He makes sure his students are on track in their lives... He genuinely cares about the well being of his students."

One idea that many of the members of the Class expressed is that Mr. Mao is the ultimate Westwood High Superfan. If there's a game, Mao is there. If there's a play, Mao's there.

If there's a club event, Mao is there. If there's a concert, Mao is there. In fact, if it involves Westwood students (and it's within driving distance), MAO IS THERE. We really don't know how he does it, but it seems like Mao is at every one of our events, even when they're going on at the same time.

He applauds our talents and cheers for our efforts. He supports all our extracurricular pursuits. As one Class member said, "Mr. Mao is a diehard Westwood fan. Late at night, freezing cold, or pouring rain, Mao is still there with his camera. His dedication to the school and student body is incredible."

Many have questioned, "Does Mao really have a home besides Westwood High?" "Does he keep a cot in the math office?" - because he attends EVERYTHING.

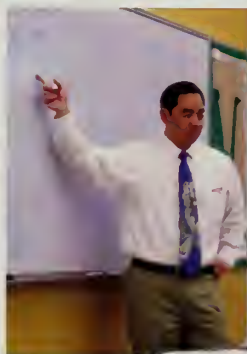

Mr. Mao is Westwood's unofficial photographer. This yearbook, which is dedicated to him, is packed full of pictures taken by the man himself. Thanks to Mao we have an endless supply of high resolution, vivid images of our student life. Thanks to Mao the Robotics Team's grueling ring collection showdown in Boston this winter is documented. Thanks to Mao the fleeting and powerful moments in performing theater are captured in time. Thanks to Mao our glory on the track, on the courts, and on the fields has been recorded in ways that our own memories cannot. And thanks to Mao the 2007 Yearbook will reflect the work, the successes, and most importantly, the relationships that have defined our four years at WHS. With his camera Mr. Mao gift-wraps our memories.

One of my fellow homeroomies, Kelley Maher, once said, "High school would not have been the same without Mr. Mao. He provided motivation to get to school on time, because starting your day in homeroom with Mr. Mao is almost as good as going to Dunkies before school." Mao cares for all of us, but 23 of us are, as our tee-shirts proudly declare, "Property of Mao". We are homeroom A225, and Mao has made our early mornings more fun for four years by emphasizing the home in homeroom. We have celebrated holidays together by decorating the room and having homeroom parties. We even sent out a New Year's card to all the other homerooms, as if we were a family.

To the Class of 2007, Mr. Mao has proven a complex formula.
Great teaching,
Multiplied by humor,
Plus seemingly infinite extra help,
Less one Achilles tendon,
Plus photos to the nth degree,
Minus a lot of our Dunkies cups,
Equals one unforgettable man.

Mr. Mao, Thank you for all you do to make Westwood High School a great place to call HOME.

"Mr. Mao is a diehard Westwood fan. It could be freezing cold or pouring rain and Mao will still be there with his camera."
Jessica Hogan

"Mr. Mao is charismatic, a great teacher, and knows how and when to joke around."
Jack Cope-Flanagan

"Mr. Mao makes an effort to get to know all of the students at Westwood High School, whether he has had them in class or not."
Leigh Carey

"He attends all our events and demonstrates enthusiasm and interest."
David Anderson

"Mr. Mao is the greatest teacher in the history of WHS!"
Alli Shortt

"He's always there with a smile and a camera."
Jamie Anderson

"Mr. Mao is a great teacher. He challenges students at every level and cares about each student as a person."
Katie Cooney

THE Yearbook

It's a Commitment!

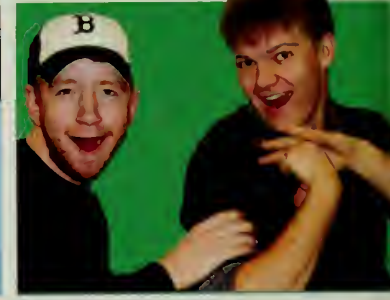

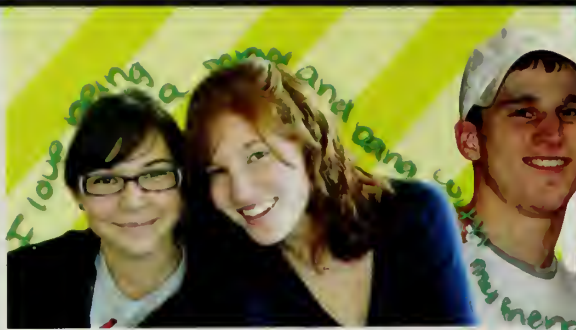

The 2007 Yearbook is the work of a dedicated class of second and third year graphic design students. It is the first WHS yearbook to be created by a class rather than a club.

The staff began by developing common goals for the book and brainstorming ideas for its theme, look, and content. Guided by a shared vision, the staff designed the layout structure for sections and features, and created and implemented systems to collect content. The creative work was continuous – one idea fueled the next. Students built on their previous design knowledge and learned new skills and ways of thinking. By the end of first semester, 40 of the 240 pages had actual content and the staff began to gain momentum.

In addition to design work, the staff: managed mailings; made, distributed, and processed the "Senior Kits"; marketed the book, and much more. Students steadily increased their hours working on the book and, by spring, there was a core crew of after school regulars. Staff members marveled at the amount of hard work and time it took to realize their goal of creating a visually cohesive, fresh, balanced, and fun reflection of WHS life. 25 of 26 staff members were seniors. But, when senior classes ended in May, the staff continued their work, many until late June, earning the right to wear the ultimate symbol of yearbook dedication, the '07 Yearbook tattoo. Though the tattoos were temporary, the product of all the hard work will last.

The Rebirth of WHS SPIRIT

When the school year began this fall Westwood High School had beautiful new playing fields and a sparkling refurbished gymnasium. The long awaited completion of the school campus ushered a renaissance of wolverine spirit. Fan attendance at sports events surged, and the Westwood community shared the excitement of rooting for the "Home" team. Thanks to Student Council, the wolverine mascot made its debut, and students from all grades formed the senior led rallying force know as the "Wolverine Den".

The Den

Den: a wild animal's lair or habitation

The "Wolverine Den" unified the sports fans of WHS into one glorious group of undefeatable spirit. Decked-out in green and white sweat shirts, beads, foam fingers, wigs, and lots of body paint, members of The Den cheered on their wolverine teams. With its creative signs, chants, and rituals, The Den kept the crowd's energy high and inspired the Westwood athletes to many victories.

Girls' Football

On the newly inaugurated Flahive Field, juniors and seniors brought back the homecoming tradition of the Girls' Football showdown. The senior girls' team, in pink, faced off the junior girls' team, in green. With coaching and play calls from members of the boys' varsity football squad, both teams moved the ball down the field to score. Though the green team prevailed (Hey, seniors, it's Westwood. Green is supposed to win.), both teams displayed great spirit, camaraderie, and impressive athleticism.

College Day!! Spring Fling!

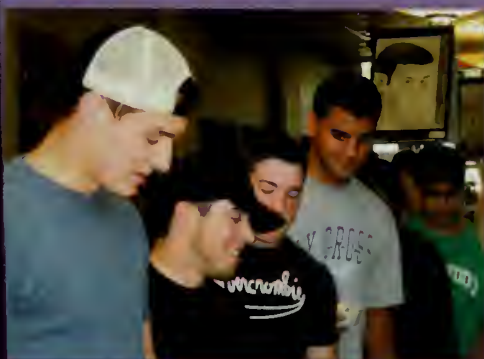

Spring Fling week started off on Monday with College Day when the students and staff wore college apparel to reflect their dreams, their plans, or their alma mater. On Tuesday night students laid their blankets on Flahive Field and snuggled up with their pals for a movie screening. Then on Thursday the PTO set up a sundae bar during lunch. All the students indulged in delicious ice cream with their favorite candy toppings. Finally Friday came and the week ended with a bang: the school dance! Everyone gathered in Cafe West and jammed to the tunes DJ Dougie Fresh picked out.

School Government

Westwood High School is governed under the provisions of the WHS constitution. Modeled after the U.S. system of government, the WHS government is made up of three branches: Legislative Council, Judicial Council, and the Executive Branch. Under this system, students, faculty, and community members participate in the governance of the school. In addition, the Site Council serves as an advisory group to the Principal and the Student Council facilitates the school's social activities and school spirit.

Site Council

The Site Council's primary role is to discuss Westwood High School issues and to devise a school improvement plan. The council consists of an elected body of students, teachers, parents, and community members who serve as an advisory group to the principal. Site Council meets once per month.

In the spring the members organized a Spring Fling Week which included a college t-shirt day, a movie night on the turf field, and a Spring Fling Dance. The council also sponsored a Prom Raffle with a prize valuing over seven hundred dollars.

Best Buddies

Best Buddies is a national organization designed to enhance the lives of those with intellectual disabilities by providing opportunities to form one to one friendships. In the Westwood Chapter students are paired with a "buddy" from the TEC class and together they do crafts, watch movies, or just spend time together. One of the highlights of this year's Best Buddies was a group field trip to a Celtic's Game.

I led the group to a 2nd place finish in my event. Dream Up!

Key Club

Key Club has promoted service throughout the Westwood community by encouraging members to complete 30 hours of volunteering per year. During club meetings members share recent service experiences with other members and learn about upcoming opportunities for service. This year Key Club participated in the Walk to Cure Diabetes and collected food to donate to the Greater Boston Food Bank.

Robotics Team

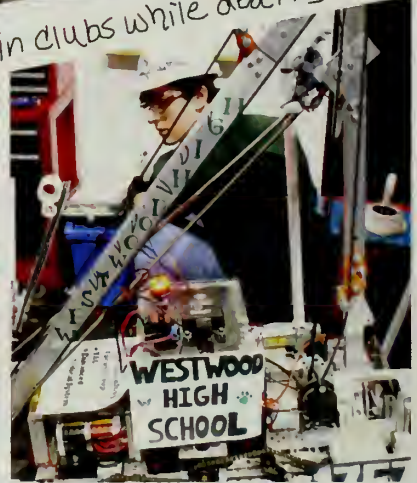

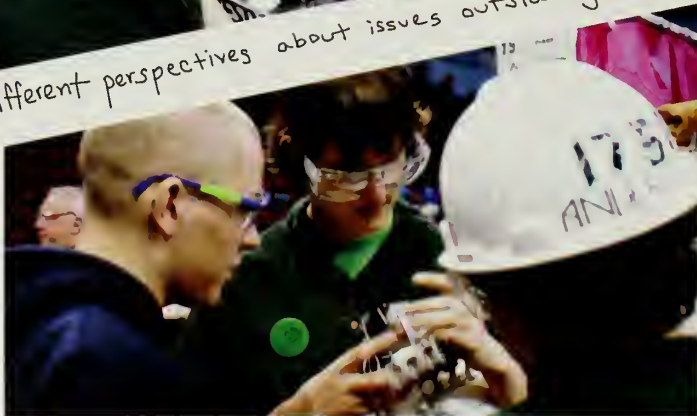

The Robotics Team competes in the US FIRST competition, a six-week period of designing and constructing 120+ pound robots, ending with a chance to compete against (and possibly knock over) other robots at a regional three-day long competition. This year, the team's robot competed in a game called "Rack and Roll" lifting inflatable pool tubes onto a ten foot tall "spider" with 24 arms. The dedicated team worked afterschool, on weekends, and into February vacation to meet the shipping deadline for the robot, affectionately named "Shaft". It featured an all-aluminum chassis, dual-motor, 4-shell cone, and a computer-controlled, doubly articulated, chain driven lifting arm. The team won almost half of their matches, scoring points on all levels of the rack.

Finely Tuned

Throughout the year, the music department presents concerts to showcase the hardwork and talent of students in music classes and extracurricular groups. The two major music events, the Winter Concert and the Pops Concert, feature the Wind Ensemble, Youth Chorale, Orchestra, Concert Band, and Combined Band. These student groups perform for their peers in school assemblies and for parents and community members in evening concerts. This year, the Youth Chorale integrated Irish step dancing and violin with their incredible singing to create a memorable performance. In the Pops Concert, members of the orchestra and the band combined to perform a piece from the Lord of the Rings as the first full orchestra since the string program began.

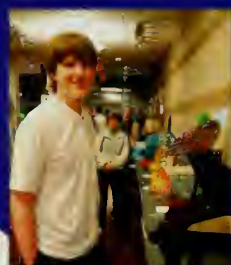

Encounters with the Arts

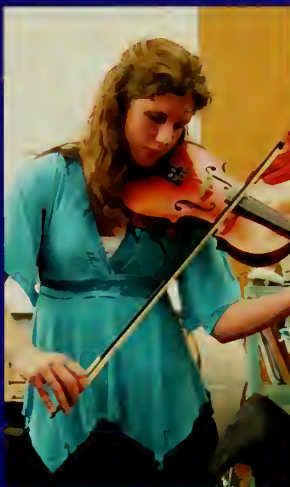

In April the visual and performing arts departments hosted the annual Encounters with the Arts, an evening dedicated to the myriad artistic talents of Westwood High School students. The hallways and art studios were transformed into galleries showcasing ceramics, graphic design, sculpture, and studio works from students in all visual arts classes, from beginner to advanced. Some students demonstrated their processes (throwing clay on the potter's wheel, acrylic painting, and printmaking) and others led interactive projects for attendees of all ages. Drama students performed student written and directed short works in the little theater. Music filled the auditorium, the art studios, and the hall ways, as groups from the band and orchestra classes, and extracurricular groups, including jazz band, jazz ensemble, and youth chorale performed a wide range of pieces from classical to contemporary. The event was a fun, high energy, celebration of Westwood High School creativity and hard work.

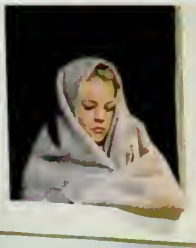

Some of the art work was so creative!!!

The jazz band's performance was really impressive.

Camino REAL

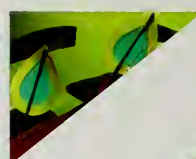

Creepy, eerie, beautiful, enigmatic, and captivating all describe the world created on stage in the fall as the performing arts department presented Camino Real, by Tennessee Williams. Whether playing cards, 'creaching', or fighting to find their way out of their personal nightmares, the cast members created powerful characters in this ensemble production. Supported by a magnificent set and outstanding costumes the cast and crew of 50 students presented a fascinating existential piece of theatre.

"We Dance" and they certainly did! This year's musical Once on this Island transported us from the winter cold of New England to the French Antilles and the story of Ti Moune, a poor peasant girl who falls in love with a wealthy boy. In an evening (or matinee) when the music and dancing never stopped; audiences watched a brilliant production of movement, color, and music that told a heart-breaking story of hope. While the show featured so many individual students, this ensemble production was tied together by outstanding costumes and scenery. Those lucky enough to see this show came away touched by the talents of this company of actors, technicians, and musicians.

The Complete Works of Shakespeare Abridged

Spotlights

This year students in the Festival Theater class wrote and performed a collection of skits exploring social issues which are relevant to teens. The "Drama of Social Issues" assembly received wide acclaim from the student body for its humor, insightful content, and well-crafted performances.

The advanced drama students also participated in the Emerson Drama Festival of Emerson College in Boston. The all-day competition is an opportunity for students to perform for a broad audience and see a wide range of productions by other high school groups. Westwood presented "The Complete Works of Shakespeare Abridged" and received lots of laughs and praise for their hilarious interpretation of the popular piece.

National Honor Society

NHS isn't all

National Honor Society is a national organization which recognizes students for their scholarship, leadership, character, and service. At Westwood High School, students are invited to apply if they have a weighted GPA of 5.0 or higher, and if they exhibit the four qualities listed above. At this year's induction ceremony in May, seventy-eight new members were inducted. Belle Cushing, Daniel O'Connor, Thomas Weinrick, and Suhas Rao spoke about the four qualities that govern the society.

This year NAHS members worked diligently over many months to create ceramic bowls for the 2nd annual Project Empty Bowls, a fundraiser for the Greater Boston Food Bank. Members helped with the entire process from setting up, to advertising, to auctioning of artworks. Attendees ate soup and were entertained throughout the night by the Jazz Band.

PERFECT Scorecard!

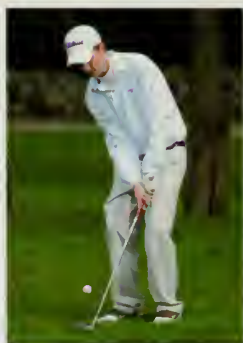

Coming off a 14-2-2 2005 season and a narrow half a game loss to Hopkinton for the league title, expectations were high for this 2006 team that returned 11 of 12 players. The team lived up to all the expectations by winning the Tri-Valley League and going undefeated at 18-0. Most matches weren't close until the end of the season when the league title was already wrapped up and they were just trying to preserve the undefeated season. They won tight matches by 1 stroke over both Holliston and Hopkinton to finish with a perfect record. Then they went on to capture the MIAA South Sectional Championship. The season ended with a tough 1 stroke loss at the State Championship. The team also picked up some prestigious awards at the end of the year with 6 league all-stars, coach Gillis named Coach of the Year, Matt Sebet named League MVP, and Sebet and Andrew Gildea named All-Scholastics.

Field Hockey

We've Got Wilson!

With a new varsity coach and only six returning players, the field hockey team had a fresh start. Coach Wilson and Captains Kristin DeCamp and Sam Friedman led the team to a fun and memorable season. The record does not reflect the valiant effort of the girls; however, substantial improvements were made by the team.

As the season progressed, the girls mastered many new skills and grew much closer to work well as a team. Triumphs over Ashland and Sharon reflected the hard work put in at practice.

From fun nights of pasta parties to positive attitudes on the playing field, the 2006 field hockey season was truly unforgettable.

Home Field Advantage!

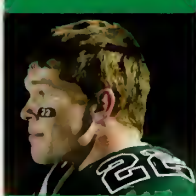

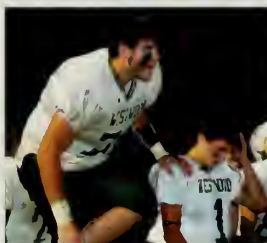

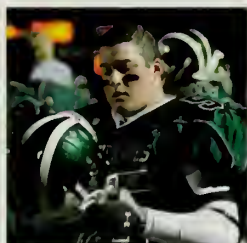

This fall, the Westwood Wolverines played their first home football game in six years at the new Flahive Field. The Wolverines opened the season with a win against the Oliver Ames. Westwood lost their next contest to the Division II powerhouse Stoneham in their first home game. On the road again, the Wolverines beat Ashland and Millis, but lost to Norton on the last play of the game. The night that the field was dedicated, the Wolverines came together and beat Bellingham in front of a record crowd of Westwood fans. Their winning streak continued against Dover-Sherborn and Medway.

The Wolverines' postseason hopes were dashed in a loss to Medfield, and their fate was sealed in a loss to Hopkinton. In the last game of the season the Wolverines once again showed their great skills by beating Holliston, their Thanksgiving Day rival. While this season did not yield a league title, it showed improvement and promise for the Westwood Wolverines.

Girls' Swimming & Diving

Icky la BOOM ba!

With a squad of thirty-three girls, the team was ready to dive right in. A record thirteen new freshmen joined the team, balancing the loss of eight strong graduated members. Hopes of a new home pool were never realized; and thus the girls woke up in the wee hours of the morning to practice in the Dedham pool. The season started with five impressive wins, bringing the team to a midseason undefeated record of 5-0.

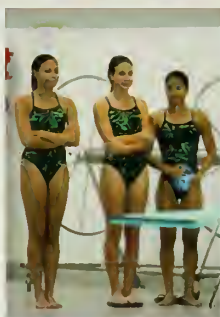

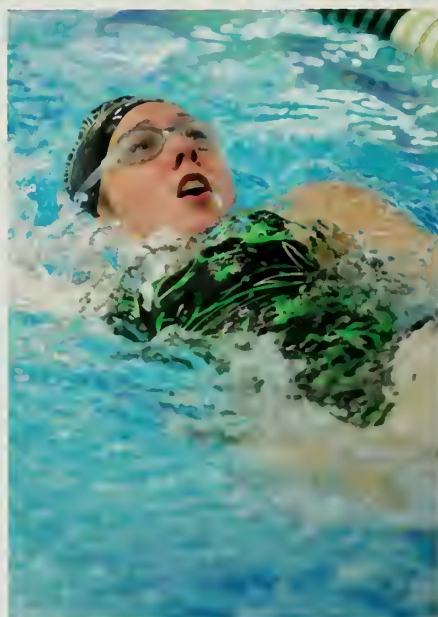

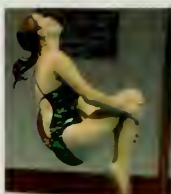

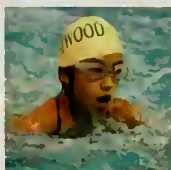

The most memorable meet was against Seekonk. The score was close throughout the entire meet, and although the girls did not win, they fought through the very last race. At sectionals, three relays competed and four girls swam individual events. In an exciting 200 yard medley relay, the team of Cooney, Nanna, Zahka and Carey qualified for states. At states, Leigh Carey placed 10th in the 500 yard freestyle, Erin Nanna placed 3rd in the 100 yard breaststroke and the 200 medley relay team shaved off 3 seconds to place 12th. The final meets were a great way to top off a successful and memorable season.

Girls' Cross Country

Kick it in!

This fall season, the girls' cross-country team had its highest number of participants in many years. Overall the girls' team progressed very well, many girls realized personal bests. Having the new course at Lowell woods infused the team with new energy and become like part of the team. Amelia Mandell's and Jacki Shipp's different captain styles worked in balance together. The girls had a lot of fun together. Kelley Maher provided a highlight for practices with her leadership in the 12 minute 1/2 mile warm ups. Given the large number of underclassmen on this year's team, the future looks good for Westwood cross country.

Great Season!

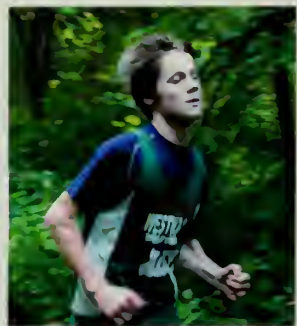

This season was a big change for Westwood High School Boys' Cross Country team; a new coach after a 30+ year compaign from Richard Horgreaves. Neol White brought on entirely new philosophy to the sport. Along with a new cooch, Westwood opened a brond new home course and hosted its first meets in years. With the gretot new changes, the team hod a very successful season with numerous standout performances and much improvement across the board. The team's success wasn't done justice by the slightly sub .500 record. Next year's team will suffer some losses to graduation, but with the increasing fomiliarity with the new cooch Westwood should go on to become the cross country powerhouse it once was.

Girls' Soccer

Don't Stop Believing

There were large shoes to fill after losing nine seniors from Soccer '05. The team worked well together to rack up wins against Norton, Bellingham, and Millis. More than anything the girls grew closer as a group and had great times at pasta dinners, Panera, and Fire and Ice. There was some playful competition within the team; Chrissy and

KST competed to see who could score more goals... for the other teams, and the seniors were victorious in a friendly, but grueling, scavenger hunt against the juniors. Overall, the season was filled with great memories both on and off the field, and the team learned that it really doesn't matter whether you win or "loo...whoo...se."

Boys' Soccer

Close to perfect

The 2006 soccer season was the best Westwood High School has seen for countless years. Along with a regular season record of 12-2-4, the team captured second place in the Tri-Valley league, and had one of the funniest teams around. In the back were the two keepers, Jed Delisle and Pat Ahearn. Together the two made up one of the strongest goal-tending tandems in the League. With superb goaltending, an unfathomable defense, a solid midfield, and a few goals, the team overcame almost every challenge presented, and had a remarkable run in the tournament which was cut short in an uncharacteristically sloppy game against Hanover.

Volleyball

Bump. Set. Spike!

For the first time in three years, Westwood volleyball had a home gym! Westwood won its first game in an impressive win against Norton. Everyone from the 2006 volleyball team agreed that it was one of their best high-school experiences. The volleyball team was a family on and off the court. Humor made playing some of the highest ranked teams like Medfield (the TVL champions) less painful. Some traditions included: pasta dinners, "boom-chicka-boom", and "hey laddie's". Volleyball 2006 was "lash"; from lash games to lash throws. "Setter's out! I got it!!!" - Jenna Pirello. A definite highpoint and accomplishment of this season was beating Holliston, which was a 7-1 team (and, interestingly, had a boy on the team). Volleyball 2006 was a season full of many hilarious memories. "I Like This".

Cheerleading

SHA BOO YA

This was a season of firsts for the W.H.S Cheerleaders with a new coach and newly completed football field. This was also the first year that WW had a mascot at the games and that the team performed at boys' basketball games. There were many highlights this year from the fun filled week over the summer at Holy Cross Cheer Camp, to the first Pep Rally in the new gym. A lot of people contributed time and effort to the success of the team and season this year. The girls give a special thanks to the Wolverine Den for its awesome spirit.

Boys' Swimming

SWIM THE BEST FOR LAST

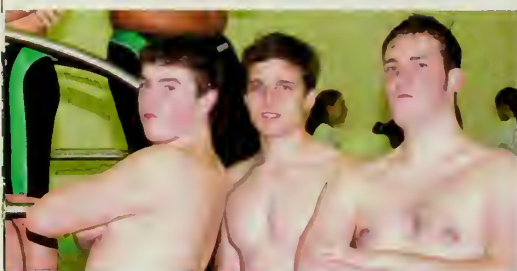

With many new members this year, the boys' swim team grew in numbers and talent, but were still the smallest team in the league. The opening of the refurbished high school meant after school practices (rather than early morning practices in Dedham like the girls' team). Averaging 3000 yards a day, the guys developed their strokes and improved with personal bests during the season. Though they didn't tally any wins, the team had a blast, and the returning members have their sights on next season.

We Fly High

The Lady Wolverines began the season with a dream of having the year 2007 on the undefeated TVL banner. The dream became more and more achievable as the team began to roll over the entire TVL. Along the way, the girls formed strong bonds as they overcame obstacles with the help of their coach Riles. Semi-formal dinners and new rituals such as eating oatmeal squares before games and singing "Ballin'" in the locker room were perfect for bringing the team together. Various divisions of taps as well as the witty remarks of Riles always lightened the mood at practice. After months of hard work, the girls fulfilled their dream of an undefeated TVL season. Although the season came to an abrupt and unexpected end in the state tournament, the 2006-2007 season and the great memories it created will never be forgotten.

DON'T STOP BELIEVING

Although the team didn't realize its ultimate goal of qualifying for the state tournament, it had a great season of impressive team and individual play. Skiing

What Snow?

Due to the lack of snow, the ski season this year was compacted into just a few weeks, when usually it lasts several months. Although the team lost some great skiers to graduation last year, the members learned that good things come in small packages with the addition of freshmen Chase Kerzel and Courtney McLaughlin. Even though the team often had to travel as far as Shrewsbury, they had a fun season and definitely made the most out of what Mother Nature provided. The boys were especially successful with their qualification for the state championship as a team. Three girls, Courtney McLaughlin, Alli Lampi, and Caitlin Latter, also made it to states. Overall, the team had a great season. Hopefully next year will bring more snow!

Coach Neal White led the Wolverines to another successful season in his fourth year coaching the indoor track team. The Wolverine's 4-3 record didn't reflect the dominance of certain performers within the TVL. Jeff Moriarty had his second consecutive undefeated season, taking the TVL titles in the 600m and mile, and Tom O'Connor virtually followed suit by being the man to beat in the 45 and 300m. The first big test of the Wolverine's was the the international Dartmouth relay meet in early January. Moriarty took home the 800m title and O'Connor placed third in the 300m. The Sprint Medley Relay also had a strong showing placing 7th. On the state level, the Westwood 4x400m relay consisting of Tom O'Connor, Brian McDonald, Will Sharry and Jeff Moriarty took home the Class D title with ease. Other stand out performances included O'Connor's 4th place and Moriarty's meet record breaking 1000m victory. From Class D's the Wolverines proceeded to the MA all-state meet where Moriarty was victorious in the 1000m over the heavily favored cross-town rival, Xaverian's Mark Amirault, running the 2nd fastest time in the nation. Tom O'Connor finished 12th against a unusually strong field in the 300m, and the 4x400 team placed 7th. The Wolverine's record in the TVL may not have been outstanding but on the state level this was an epically successful season

We Live At Reggie

The girls' indoor track team had a lot of fun this season. They stayed in high spirits even though the majority of practices involved running outside in freezing cold and meets started early every Saturday morning. Whether the meets were at the Holliston or Hopkinton track or at the Reggie Lewis Center in Boston, the team always gave 100%. Because the team was small, each girl had to participate in two or three events at each meet. Despite the strain, the girls' team was successful this season. Kathryn Martin won the Tri-Valley league in the mile and Victoria Koutris won the league in the 45-meter dash. Also, the 4 x 400 meter relay team of Liz Lyons, Carlin Reilly, Sarah Matthews, and Mischa Beatty won the TVL and set a school record. Overall, the girls' indoor track team shared a lot of laughs and had a lot of fun and did well on the track.

Girls' Hockey

Winter of Wins

There were many exciting moments for the girls' hockey team this year. One unforgettable moment was at the end of the Sandwich game with .8 of a second remaining when Callie Rose, assisted by Lauren Hillberg, scored the winning goal. At the close of the regular season, the team was one point out of the tournament, but caught a big break. Latin Academy had to forfeit the game WW had played against them, so WW was pushed into the tournament. The wolverines won the preliminary game in the tournament, in overtime, but unfortunately, lost the next round. Nonetheless it was a great season and a super team. From pasta dinners to bus rides to the Cape, the girls always found ways to have fun. The end of the season marked the retirements from coaching for head coach Mike Beaumont and Manny Sargent. Both coaches were great assets to the girls' hockey program at Westwood High School, and will be missed in seasons to come.

Boys' Hockey

Overtime

Coming off an 11-10 season and being hit hard by graduation, the 25 year streak of making states looked like it was in jeopardy, but the boys' hockey team finished the season 14-6-3 and pushed the streak to 26 years. The team battled all year long and had a chance, right down to the last game of the year, for the Tri-Valley League title, but ultimately finished 2nd. In the state tournament,

Westwood beat Diman in OT and South Shore, then lost to the eventual state champions, Scituate, in the south semifinals. The highlight of the season was the overtime win in the first round of the playoffs at home and the celebration in front of all the Wolverine fans.

This spring, the boys' track and field team, 65 members strong, inaugurated Westwood's new state-of-the-art track. It was clear the new facilities were an advantage to the boys, who end with a 7-1 record and placed 2nd in the TVL. The team ranked 7th at the Division IV state meet. The unstoppable foursome (Brian McDonald, Jeff Moriarty, Tom O'Connor, and Kevin O'Connor) won the 4x4 at the division IV state meet and ranked 5th at All-States. Along with numerous team triumphs, members accomplished impressive feats individually. MVP Jeff Moriarty was a force to be reckoned with all season. Jeff ranked first for the 800 at class-d. The only thing that held him back from taking the title at All-States was traffic. The team's unsung hero, Tom O'Connor won 1st in the 200 at the Division IV state meet and came in 5th at All-States. Girls' Track & Field

Thanks Hava & Udall ☺

An actual track? What's this I hear?! Yes, Westwood completed its first season in years with a brand new, state of the art, track and field! Hosting the TVL relay's at the beginning of the season and closing with the TVL championships, the Westwood girl's track team is proud to have a track again. Thanks to all of this year's spring athletes, it was a terrific season. The girls were not only successful, but had a lot of fun!

Collecting more points than ever before in the field events led them to many victories. Overall the girls progressed very well, making many personal best times on the track, throws on the field, and jumps into the pits. The seniors led the team scoring countless numbers of points. They will definately be missed next year. Coach Hava and Udall will also be missed; thank you and good luck!

Overcoming Adversity

Girls' softball wasn't expecting to make it to tourney with a mid-season 5-8 record. However, senior captains Kim White and Jess Hogan kept the team's spirit high. An intense game against Hopkinton went into extra innings. WW won in the 11th. The team kept the spirit alive by decorating the seniors' houses and even took on the job of giving the baseball team a "surprise" visit adding decor to the boys' houses. As the season moved forward, softball continued to win and expectations soared when the team reached tournament! The games were tough but westwood remained strong; They went into extra innings with the defending champions from last year, Norton, and beat them in the 9th. With a talented team and great coaches, the 2007 softball team finished with an impressive record of 13-10. The team reached the quarter finals of the tournament, going further than softball has gone in a long time.

This year's Baseball team had a very successful season. Though they started the season slowly with a 2-7 record at the half way point, they rallied and bounced back, winning 8 games in row to finish third in the league and to clinch a playoff spot. Members of the team marveled at the team's chemistry and sense of spirit and thank their fans for their support and for contributing to the excitement on the playing field.

"Single-File Line"

Another Wolverines Lacrosse season is in the books, and it ended like other seasons past. This year did not end as the team would have liked, but it was a step in the right direction. This year's team's attitude was different than those in the past. The team was competitive until the end and did not give up. This year's team played very competitively against powerhouses Dover-Sherborn and Holliston. The Wolverines saw their share of adversity. They lost co-captain Kyle Sloan-Rossiter to an injury before the season and co-captain Will Sharry to injury at the beginning of the season. The rest of the injury-riddled campaign saw the emergence of promising underclassmen and hope for the future. In its first year with coach Mike Berube, the Wolverines took a step in the right direction, and put the program in line to be successful in the future.

Girls Lacrosse

Kazim Kazam

The lacrosse girls had much to prove this season after an upsetting loss early in tournament last season. They pushed themselves every practice and every game to make sure this season was not a repeat of last. They connected both on and off the field. Trips to Bubbling Brook and the Frank household helped create everlasting bonds. With food added as motivation, they strived for success.

This became evident when they were crowned TVL champions and finished their regular season with the first seed in D1 south. After playing King Phillip they captured the title as South Sectional Champions for the fourth time in the past five years. Unfortunately, they came up short in the State Semi Finals by nine seconds but completed their phenomenal season with stellar personal performances and team unity.

ACE!

After a disappointing first round loss in last year's tournament, the tennis team came back with renewed intensity and energy. Led by MVP DK Law and Unsung Hero George Primpas, the team had a 16-2 regular season record. Also, the team had an incredible run with 14 straight victories. Even though the team lost in the quarterfinals to the number one seed, they had an epic battle in the first round of the playoffs. Down 2-0 in a best of five match, Westwood rallied to beat Pembroke 3-2. The always dependable doubles tandem of Amol Mepani and Duncan Wells, who went 15-0 for the season, clinched the deciding point with a nail biting 3 set victory. With freshman Christian Heaney-Second leading the way at first singles, the future of Westwood tennis looks bright.

BUH BYE!!!

Last year three of the seven starters graduated, so this year the team had to do some line-up rebuilding. Maura McGinnis made the difficult transition from first doubles to first singles. At second singles there was the other McGinnis, Krista, who is a sophomore and new to the starting line up. At first, third singles was junior Kristina Ortloff, but half way through the season the line up still did not seem right.

Kristina Ortloff and Rachael Tuleja, who was at first doubles with junior Belle Cushing, switched positions. Kristina and Belle Cushing showed how great of a team they were as they had a close to perfect record. The dynamic duo at second doubles, with newcomer Allison Lim and senior Leigh Carey lost only one match the whole season. Despite the overall team record, the season was still a lot of fun!

I guess this is the place for words of wisdom, or reflections on our experiences at WHS. Unfortunately, it's 12:10 midnight, I'm frazzled, and my carefully worded words of wisdom were 30 words over the limit. So, to cut to the chase: From the bottom of my heart, I must say, I've had a real blast at Westwood and I wish everyone the best of luck in finding happiness and people who will treat you as well as people from Westwood do.

David Anderson

One of my best experiences in high school has been the Robotics Team. I want to thank all the students who are part of the team, and all the adults who help keep it running. I hope the team works harder than ever, to recruit new members and secure sponsorship, and I wish them luck in all their future competitions. Band was also a great experience, as a chance to hang out with friends and go on field trips, as well as playing bass clarinet. Finally, thank you to my classmates, friends and administrators for four great years.

Jamie Anderson

Good times in band and at school plays. CMP parties, or sometimes referred to as CMAP parties with the girls. Sleeping through classes by putting my hair in front of my face (those were always the best classes). Handing in every single paper to The Chatts late second term. Not doing major assignments. Random and unrelated field trips. Senior year was a blur, an incredibly fun blur.

See You Again...

Ruth Angelici

My first year and a half at WHS was rough. But sophomore year I made some of the best friends I've ever had. AB06, HBY, Friday movie nights, Anime Club, Dir En Grey, Taste of Chaos and meeting 30STM are just a few of my fondest memories (though, concert-wise, I think this coming summer may be the best). My favorite classes during these years have been math, history and art; the teachers only making them that much better. If it's possible, I'd like to be remembered as someone who tried to express herself in every way she could think of.

Jamie Arnpriester

The past four years have been the best years of my life so far. I just recently realized that all the people that said it will be over before I knew it were right. Playing hockey at WHS was tough but a great time and it was the best group of kids I've ever been on a team with. If I could do it all again I absolutely would. I'm always going to miss the "Den" and will always bleed green.

School's out for Summer

I can't believe it's already over. These past four years have been incredible. I have had some amazing teachers and classes that I have learned so much from. My friends are the ones who made High School even better. It was so nice to know that my friends would always be there for me. High School has been an unbelievable experience and I know I will do just fine next year.

Four years have come and gone. 2,112 days have been spent together since kindergarten, which works out to be only about seven percent of our lives. Now upon the threshold of our final weeks together, we are ready to depart and scatter to separate parts of the country. The good news, we will have our memories. The yearbook you hold in your hands is a work of fiction but, it is the memories that we each have that are real. It is the times that you laughed the hardest or cried the longest that you will remember in twenty years. What a roller coaster ride it has been—great are the ties that bind!

"Time- Where did you go? Wait, don't go so fast." Everyone always says high school is the best years of your life, I never realized it until now, looking back at all the amazing memories. Jess, you've been my best friend from the very beginning and I don't plan on stopping here- love you. Abby, I couldn't have gotten through high school without you. And of course to all my friends, I love you all. The panera dates, the aimless drives, bawling, chillin, movies, Rachies, 395 Washington St., the cars, Milton, SanFran07 these memories will last a life time. Other than papers, late nights, tests and homework, high school is really about friends. Class boundaries are finally broken, so you end up being friends with seniors while you're a freshman, and you're friends with freshmen as a senior. I've always been there for my friends during the fun times, and the little silly things we did. (holy panda, pink string... I could go on forever,) and I'm there during the stress and strain of high school. On the other side, they have been there for me. It's sad to leave you, so give me a hug when I go.

Alex DeBenedictis

Don't be dismayed at goodbyes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again, after moments or a lifetime, is certain for those who are friends.

I would like to thank my family and friends for great memories over the past four years! I wish the class of 2007 the best of luck always.

Ever since I was a freshman just starting high school, I tried to avoid being the center of attention. I kept to myself, but I also tried to be kind to those who were kind to me. I hope that I will be remembered as the quiet, but kind person in the class. Naw, four years later, I'm heading off to college. Nat much about me has changed, and I like it that way.

Why just the other day I was walking down the hall, no longer blinded by the hideously bright colors used to paint the halls, and I realized, well, I realized nothing at all; sorry for that, I wanted people to think I had something to say. I went places, I did things, I knew people. This is a waste of space. I wondered around a while went to a few classes, listened to some of molox's prepasteraus stories. All in all it was mediocre at best.

These past four years at Westwood High School have been quite an experience. There have been good times and bad times but as the end of the road approaches the good times are all that can be remembered. From our rebellious ways right up to our senioritis senior year. I also remember the many things I have accomplished along with my friends such as the introduction of Beantown's Finest at the talent show my sophomore year right up to Beantown's Finest blowing everyone away at Pep Rally my senior year. I hope to be remembered as a leader, a motivator, but most importantly, a friend.

WHS is a school beyond comparison, the class of 2007 had the BEST school spirit from creating a Den Dynasty to our first home football game which will probably be stamped in my mind as one of the best high school memories. i will always remember the amazing Cafe West food (i dont think any other school has such a selection!) and for sure i wont forget Mr.Shuman's funny but dry humor and Mao's decorations for absolutely every holiday. i am going to Rae's therapy sessions and definetly mall runs with Mealz, first time haircuts with Maggs (proudest moment of my life) and most of all Mr.Cronin's smile whenever he caught me skipping class..oh ya and one more thing, the senior girls of 2007 are and always will be Powder Puff Champs! <3

I would like to thank all the people who have supported me throughout the years, especially my family, friends, and teachers. Westwood has been a great stepping stone for the future of our class. I am excited to move on to new things, yet I will always remember and be grateful to all the people in the community. I wish the class of 2007 the best of luck with their futures.

I'd just like to thank all my friends for always having a good time, in and out of school. Westwood High School was awesome and I'm very glad I come here. Thanks to the football, hockey and lacrosse teams for a good three years of sports (only two for hockey), and also to all the people that ever went to one of those games as well as the Wolverine Den, best fons in the TVL.

Bryan Peterson

I didn't always want to be just a normal kid that goes to Westwood High School. I wanted to stand out and let people know my name. Throughout High School I joined the swim team and for my junior and senior year of High school I was captain of the swim team. During High school I made many friends and am still wicked close with them. I was lucky to have a sensational girlfriend Danielle who I love. Senior year I got a Mustang and crashed it a week later but got an even better one. So I believe I have accomplished my goal on letting people know who I am.

(Some people would say this day would never come, what are they to say now?)

My only memories of this place, that I actually want to keep that are good, are those of my friends. Over the years I have met new people and new friends who helped me become who I am today, and the time spent together will never be forgotten. I leave here saying one thing...pop-tarts for all!!

Four years. Four long years. I really havnt changed that much except for my group of friends. I went from one solid group within this school to expanding to another town. My years here at westwood have been very boring and i plan on moving away and living a much better life. I have had many teachers, some repeots. I have had some really great teachers that know how to get through to the students and really have helped me get through the year, thank you. I'm sick of high school drama and leave you with this. The brain, hippies, this is spartal Thank you and good night.

I will always remember the hilarious times at Westwood high school. The old school, gym with Mrs. Peters, the grill, Den, catch phrases, call home from Ms. Roy, Latin Class, Jimmy (Latin), the Library, Ducheneau Driving hours, Applebee's, driving runs (no idea where you're going), Mr. Brilliant's class, Teachers, Marvin, and of course Mrs. S. High School has been the most interesting four years of my entire life. It has taught me the lessons in life and the idea of pursuing your inner goals. "You build a successful life a day at a time."

It is difficult and strange to describe my years at Westwood High in 100 words or less, so I guess I'll just list things: Sean's house every Friday and Saturday since 6th grade, that fateful night in the Applebees parking lot, msr, the beach and Roanoke, in all their glary, driving around all night in hope of things, c3po-

WOLVERINES '07

Matthew Shang

As a member of the Westwood High School community, I remember the Wolverine Den. Although today's seniors were unable to enjoy the luxuries of a home field for their athletics in both sophomore and junior years, the upcoming of the Wolverine Den at the football games as well as other sports certainly made it well worth the wait. I most remember the first home game of the football season. Whether it was the tailgating prior to the game, grilling in the parking lot at the Senior Center, or the crazed Westwood fans covered in body paint, being a part of it was certainly an enjoyable experience.

Max Shapiro

As I end my senior year at Westwood High, I can only think back on how much I have changed, from the me in elementary school as the goofy, shy kid who wore matching sweatsuits to school every day, to the goofy, shy (but hopefully better dressed) me of today. As I leave Westwood High, I will fondly remember the good friends I have had. From our many nights playing nonstop videogames, to getting lost at midnight and ending up in Boston, it has certainly been an interesting couple of years.

Enrik Uka

I have accomplished many things in life but the most important thing I have accomplished in my High School career has been finding my identity. I have discovered who I am, what I like and what I do best. Life is not about what you know but instead it's about what you can prove. I know many positive things about myself but what really matters is what I prove to others. Life is an open book, the journey never ends, the only difference in this book, is that you can make your own story and your own ending. Stay strong and never give up, is the best advice I have received and have given.

Looking back on who I was as a freshman, I've come to realize just how much I've changed since then. When I look back on my years of WHS, I'll always remember the anime club meetings, Friday movie nights at Nick's house, eating lunch at the hobo spot, and hanging out before and after school with the greatest friends I could have asked for. Along with the friends I've had since elementary school, I've found an amazing group of people who have always been there for me, through good times and, well, not so great times. There's also SADD, drama club, all the plays and musicals, RAD self-defense classes, four incredible years of drama classes, US History with Shumes, the list goes on and on. Now I'm ready to take my next steps into the world, as the person I've become over the past four years, with the strength to stand up for what I believe in and make a difference in the world.

Seems like yesterday we walked into a tottered old building, crowded with people three times our size, scored out of our minds. Since then, more has happened than I care to try listing, and we've turned out nothing like the people we walked in as. A few more friends, a few more memories, and a few more things in between that we know we'll never be able to let go of completely. I wish everybody the best, wherever we end up, I know that it will be borderline impossible to forget where we all started.

Honor Address

by the Valedictorian of the Class of 2007

Matt McClellan

Before I begin, I would like to recognize and thank the school committee, the administration, faculty, parents and guests, and my fellow graduates.

As I first tried to come up with ideas for this speech, I thought, how on Earth can I make a five minute speech that captures four years of experience of 200 of my peers? I was afraid of missing something big, something, really, really important. I had a flashback to the time long ago when I was finishing up my senior kit – How could I sum up four years in just one hundred words? Does anyone really write a forty-word will? What two pictures best capture the essence of Matt McClellan? It all just felt so rushed.

When I am pressed for time, I think of some strange things. The very first school-memory that came to my mind was about an eighth-grade English class activity. Our teacher had our class sit down one day and write letters addressed to ourselves, and she promised to mail them out to us after we graduated high school in four years. We actually received those letters Friday, but with Mrs. Kelsch as my witness, I have not yet opened my letter. I don't remember exactly what I wrote then, except for one bold prediction: I guaranteed a Red Sox World Series victory in the intervening four years. The clear highlight of my prophesying career aside, I look forward to seeing what else I wrote.

I believe that being pressed for time helps you find out more about yourself. When you flail around desperately, the memories you grab a hold of will be significant. They might seem mundane and flat out strange, but they are nonetheless significant. They will reveal snippets of your character, likes and dislikes, sense of humor, or anything you hold important.

I vividly remember one day last year when Mr. Brown substituted for my U.S. History class. He taught us about the Homestead Act and gave all sorts of impressive facts and figures. Mr. Brown then asked the class, "Well, how significant was the Homestead Act?" He didn't see a single hand. "Mr. McClellan, you look pretty comfortable back there, how significant was the Homestead Act?" I gave my best thoughtful impression and responded, "Oh, um, it was...extremely significant." I thought it was a pretty good recovery. An extremely good recovery, perhaps.

"Wrong! It was only fairly significant." Okay, maybe it was only a fairly good recovery.

Another seemingly random memory that sticks out is of a story Mr. Dillon told my freshman World Civ class. He told us about a man who worked on the border between two countries, and was absolutely sure a man who rode across the border every day on a motorcycle was up to no good. Every day he searched the motorcycle up and down, but found nothing out of the ordinary. Of course, it turned out he was dealing with a motorcycle-smuggler, and Mr. Dillon's favorite catchphrase is, of course, "Don't miss the motorcycle." – Don't miss the obvious.

I definitely have left out many of the Important Life-Changing Events here, but that is just fine with me – these two images speak to me. These memories tell me that changes in my perspective and way of thinking are important, that I value time spent with inspiring, and sometimes intimidating teachers, and that I am able to laugh at myself.

This phenomenon is not limited to me; everybody tends to remember the things that seem to go unnoticed the first time around. Perhaps Susan B. Anthony phrased it better than I could:

"Sooner or later we all discover that the important moments in life are not the advertised ones, not the birthdays...the weddings, not the great goals achieved. The real milestones are less prepossessing. They come to the door of memory unannounced, stray dogs that amble in, sniff around a bit and simply never leave. Our lives are measured by these."

It is the everyday experiences that have somehow slipped your minds that you will later remember fondly. Maybe something will fill your unsuspecting mind during one of the next few days, when you're trying to escape with iPods or Sudoku. Or maybe something will come to you as you lay in bed, between the click of the light and the start of the dream. Relax and enjoy these memories, and then learn something extremely significant about your lives. Or at least something fairly significant.

Thank you!

Prom

475 students arrived in style for the 2007 Junior-Senior Prom. The setting was Luciano's Lake Pearl in Wrentham, MA on a gorgeous evening in late May. After posing for countless pictures, prom goers enjoyed the buffet, and then got to the main event- dancing. With Mr. Ducheneau's encouraging, even Mr. Cronin and his wife took a spin on the dance floor to commemorate their first date at Luciano's years ago. The dance floor was alive well into the night, with countless students wishing they wouldn't have to return home. Undoubtedly it was a night to remember for years to come.

It was a great way to kick off senior week

The Beach Trip was lots of fun, especially when the students beat the teachers in volleyball

Play Ball

Seniors vs. Faculty Softball Game

The seniors and faculty gathered for a softball game as a part of this year's senior week activities. After being defeated by the seniors in a beach volleyball game the day before, the faculty came back with a vengeance. They got off to a great start in the early innings and held on to their lead for the remainder of the game. The game was well attended, with seniors grilling on the sidelines. The faculty ended up winning the game 24 to 9.

24-9 24-9 24 to 9 24 to 9 24 to 9

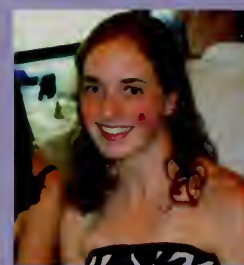

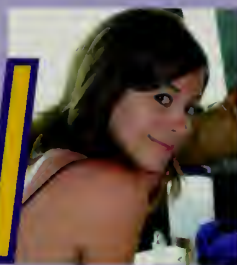

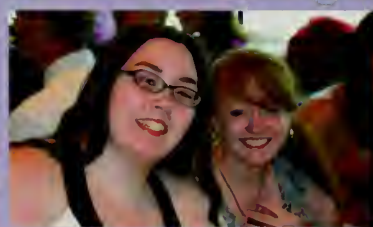

24 to 9 24 to 9... wait, who won beach volleyball?

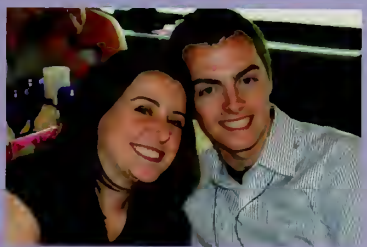

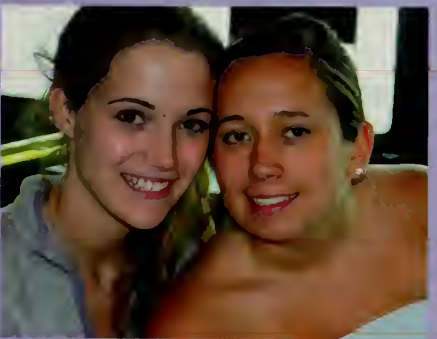

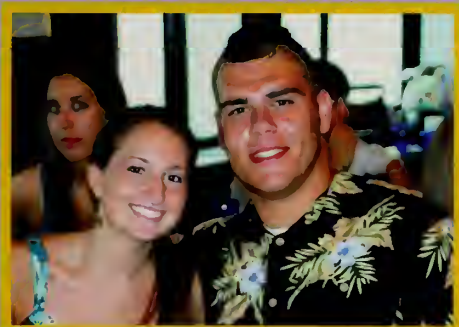

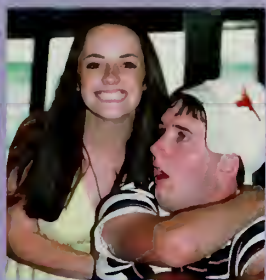

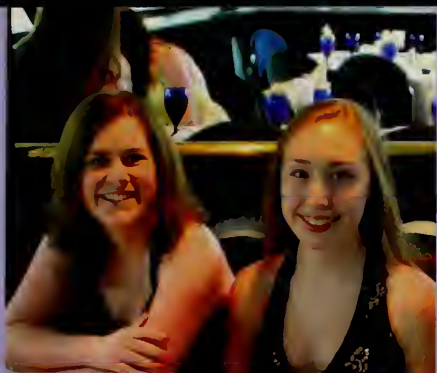

Seniors Set Sail

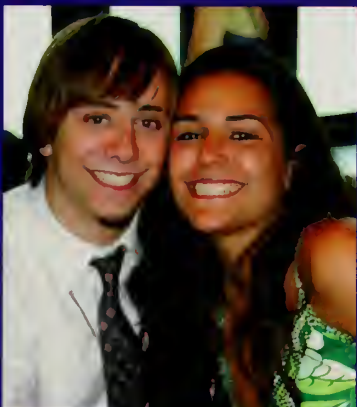

On the third day of senior week the members of the class dressed up in their summer finery and embarked on the luxurious "Spirit of Boston". As the boat toured the Boston Harbor, the class reminisced on good times, enjoyed the abundant buffet, and checked out the views from above deck. Mid-trip, the yearbook staff announced the much anticipated results of the Senior Superlative votes. The day ended in the typical senior '07 style as the cruise transformed into a ongoing dance party.

Graduation

The Class of 2007 entered the gym on Sunday, June 3rd full of excitement and eagerness. However, as the graduates sat through the ceremony their thoughts of the future turned to the tangible past. Both Kevin O'Conner and Matt McClellan spoke of memories that highlighted the class' high school experience; thus, encouraging the graduates to pause and commemorate the past four years. Even Ms. Parks asked the graduates to slow down and reflect upon the past before starting off on their promising future, by writing a traditional letter to thank those who have helped them.

Living in Neverland with my friends
one last time was so fun!

The ALL NIGHT Graduation Party

A Little Bit of Pirate Dust

Oh, what a night! Doors closed at ten o'clock for a magical night in Neverland of laughing, singing, cheering, dancing, eating, and gaming. Thanks to the All-Night Grad Party Parent Committee, the cafeteria and hallways were transformed, with fantastic decorations, into the world from Peter Pan complete with pirates, mermaids, and teepees. A variety of activities spanned all the way around to the gym lobby where the bucking bull gave some quite a ride. Amongst the fun were caricature artists, western photo dress-ups, a variety of memorabilia booths, and a Texas Hold'em tournament. At 1:00, the hypnotist enthralled the audience and kept them laughing by making senior volunteers exhibit some bizarre behaviors. In the words of Peter Pan, the party flew "straight on till Morning."

The hypnotist at the All Night Grad Party was amazing!

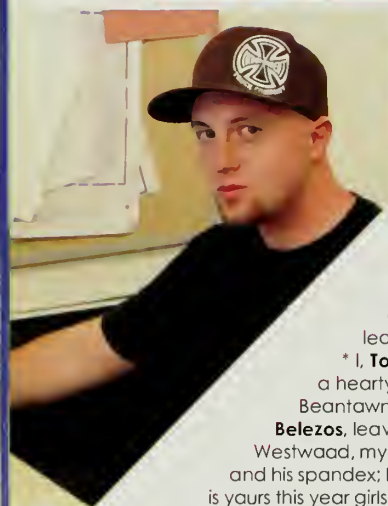

We were like ROCK STARS making the music videos.

I hope you get your fill to eat but always keep that hunger
May you never take one single breath for granted
God Forbid love ever leave you empty handed
I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean
Whenever one door closes I hope one more opens
Promise me that you'll give faith a fighting chance
And when you get the chance to sit or dance
I hope you dance"

Brianna Kouri

I hope you never lose your sense of wonder
 You get your fill to eat but always keep that hunger
 May you never take one single breath for granted
 God forbid love ever leave you empty-handed
 I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean
 Whenever one door closes I hope one more opens
 Promise me you'll give faith a fighting chance
 And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance
 I hope you dance ... I hope you dance
 I hope you never fear those mountains in the distance
 Never settle for the path of least resistance
 Livin' might mean takin' chances but they're worth takin'
 Lovin' might be a mistake but it's worth makin'
 Don't let some hell-bent heart leave you bitter
 When you come close to sellin' out reconsider
 Give the heavens above more than just a passing glance
 And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance
 I hope you dance ... I hope you dance
 Time is a real and constant motion always rolling us along
 Tell me who wants to look back on their years and wonder
 Where those years have gone
 I hope you dance ... I hope you dance

- Lee Ann Womack "I Hope You Dance"

You are both a credit to your mother and me. I know she would agree with this advice from Mark Twain:

"Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the lines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

Good luck
in college and beyond.
I love you.

Free Spirit

There is nothing more rewarding
Than watching our children grow
When it comes to Kendra
There is so much to love and know

She has now achieved her right
Of passage onto a college scene
A true guiding light for sure
Look below and see what we mean

The best things about Kendra
You really must know
First of all a best friend
Her smile creates such a glow

You will always find Kendra
To be a social delight
Friendly, empathetic, gentle and kind
It is time for her to take flight

Now let us tell some things
About true family life at home
A loving daughter,
granddaughter, and sister
She makes it easy to write this poem

So as we begin to say
What it is we really mean
All great things for Kendra
The best of life in between

And in the end and most important
Good health, happiness, and fun
She deserves all that and more
As her life has really just begun

So go ahead Kendra
Be all you can be
Just remember we love you
Good luck and be free

Love Always
